Gentlemen,

I have a very fine collection of
of ancient Greek
and Roman coins.
Can you tell me of
any one that knows
enough about such matters to tell me
exactly what they are worth? They are all very carefully labelled w/ & can tell exactly what they are, but I want some one

to tell me exactly
what they are worth.

Very sincerely

Dear Madam:-

In response to your note of June 27th, I am not quite clear as to whether you merely wish an appraisal of the collection which you describe or whether you desire to dispose of them. In either case we should, of course, be willing to place ourselves at your service provided the collection is not too large, and I would suggest your bringing the collection with you to New York when you come again especially if you would be willing to leave it with us for a limited time if Mr. Newell, the one who would best be able to evaluate the pieces should not be at the Museum when you come. During the summer he is here on two or three days of the week only, and it is impossible to make definite appointments ahead.

After seeing the pieces we should be in a position to advise you further.

Very respectfully yours,

Secretary.
